U. S. TUG CHEROKEE FOUNDERS; THIRTY DIE; TWO RUSSIAN REGIMENTS ARE CAPTURED

SAYS PRICE FIXING HAS NOT BARRED PROFITEERS

Senator Lodge Declares That There Was No Necessity for Shortage in Coal and Sugar

FUEL BUREAU MEN ARE CALLED AMATEURS

Freight Embargo on Railways Given as Better Remedy Than Shutting Off Industries

AN ASSOCIATED PRESS LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Government price fixing for the purpose of preventing profiteering has proved a failure, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared today in giving the Senate the conclusions he had drawn from the recent investigations of the coal and sugar shortages. In the case of coal, Sen. Lodge said, "price fixing had only served to curtail production, while the food administration's price plan for sugar had kept western beet sugar from the eastern states and in the meantime retailers of coal and sugar had profiteered."

SUGAR PRICE FIXING DECLARED MISTAKE

The senator dealt in a milder manner with the food administration, and although asserting that the fixing of the price of sugar was "mistaken policy" and the sugar famine largely artificial, he added:

"In justice to Mr. Hoover, he made every effort to get rail distribution and get sugar, flour much he was hampered by the railroad situation and the tangle of priority orders. I do not know, but I am certain that if he had been efficiently aided; instead of being crossed by other commissions, there could have been no sugar famine in the eastern states."

Declaring that he did not believe the railroad problem could not have been solved Senator Lodge continued:

"But nothing can be more certain than that the policy of the fuel administration in its attempt to substitute a new scheme of distribution, has with reckless price fixing brought on a coal famine in country which has more coal than any in the world."

EMBARGO BETTER THAN SHUTTING DOWN

"What we needed was not a shutting down of industries, but a freight embargo on all railroads. It (the fuel administration policy) is a striking evidence of how much harm has been done by paralyzing private interests and undertaking to solve the difficulties by one bureau composed largely of amateurs."

"There was no need of the fuel administration, no reason why it should exist at all. The powers, however, and the patriotic purpose of their possessor, have been employed to make a bad situation worse and do nothing but harm. The vital point of the whole coal situation was the railroad problem."

Either Secretary Lane or Francis Peabody, Senator Lodge said, should have charge of the coal situation. Announcement by Secretary Baker of the agreement Lane brought about at a conference of operators, dealers and consumers was criticized by the senator. He also denounced conferring of vast powers upon state fuel administrators.

"So far as I can learn," said Lodge, "the only qualification of these gentlemen is that they should be democrats."

RIOTERS SAVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—An indefinite respite has been granted five negro soldiers of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, sentenced by court-martial to be hanged for participation in the Houston riots. The number and character of appeals for clemency reaching the President from clergymen and negro organizations caused the respite. The President has notified the war department that he will suspend action on the cases until he has received the record of the court-martial proceedings in the cases of thirty other members of the regiment now being tried at San Antonio. Thirteen of the rioters already have been hanged.

U. S. Troops Gassed by Huns Sixty-One Victims of Horror Five Men Are Killed Outright

By FRED S. FERGUSON,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 27.—Sixty-one American soldiers, gas victims, lay in the hospital today, following a night of horror. The doctors worked all night on the cases.

Five others were killed in the gas attack.

Many of the hospital cases included artillerymen who were overcome by fumes from gas shells.

The first victims included boys from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Indiana, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee, Rhode Island, Ohio, New York, Washington and Arkansas.

The attack came suddenly early this morning after an all-day rain.

The clouds had parted and the moon was shining brightly in the trenches. Stillness prevailed.

Suddenly there was a huge flare from the German trenches as the Minewerfers were discharged. Then came the detonations of high explosives with the quick spread of deadly gases.

The American army has gas equipment and will use it as the occasion demands, but it is a matter of self-defense. The Boches introduced the gas terror to the world. Its first use against the Americans has aroused the entire army to the stage of "seeing red."

It would stir the fighting blood of every American to view the hospital where lay the victims of the first German gas attack.

At the hour of writing five were dead and twenty were in hospitals struggling with the poison. The Boches were first visible, then the additional were en route to the hospitals. At the field hospital where the first twenty victims of German gas frightfulness were taken care of, the Boches were seen having seen the suffering. Among the doctors was one from Waco, Tex., and one from Milford, Pa.

GAS PROJECTILES ARE HURLED ACROSS

Every effort to relieve the suffering was resorted to.

The doctors cursed the Boches for being first visible, then the additional were en route to the hospitals. At the field hospital where the first twenty victims of German gas frightfulness were taken care of, the Boches were seen having seen the suffering. Among the doctors was one from Waco, Tex., and one from Milford, Pa.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning gas projectiles were hurled from Minewerfers. Small balls of fire were first visible, then the additional were en route to the hospitals. At the field hospital where the first twenty victims of German gas frightfulness were taken care of, the Boches were seen having seen the suffering. Among the doctors was one from Waco, Tex., and one from Milford, Pa.

MEN HURLED TO ADJUST THEIR MASKS

Three officers ran into a dugout and closed the curtain so tight they narrowly escaped death through asphyxiation from the charcoal filter. They were taken to a hospital, but their condition is not serious.

Three men were killed and nine overcome in this section alone during the first attack.

When the attack came over the men endeavored to adjust their gas masks. Those who weren't quick enough were soon gasping for breath. These were carried to a hospital.

Minewerfers are fired electrically, the entire battery being set off simultaneously. This is the first time the Boches have used time fuses.

In addition to this attack an important village was gassed three times during the night. The gas attacks continued during the day.

Farrell by Superior Judge W. M. Conley. He also charged that she went to San Francisco with J. Pearce and that they registered at a hotel as husband and wife.

Charged With Luring Girls From Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Charged with impersonating a government secret service agent, Harvey D. Rice, 50 years old, was arrested today in the Hotel Oaks, 131 Fell street, by Charles Gilling, Oakland operative for the army intelligence bureau, and Isadore Contanza of the treasury department. There was with him at the time of his arrest, Miss Ruth H. Grammer, 15 years old, the three-day bride of a soldier. She has been posing as Rice's niece. In Rice's pockets were found a citation to appear in Oakland and show cause why a warrant should not be issued against him for wife abduction.

The accused man is alleged to have used fake government credentials to win the confidence of the mothers of girls.

Ship Plant Is Saved by Guard From Explosion

UNITED PRESS LEADER WIRE TO TRIBUNE

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Attempt was made today to blow up the compressor in the plant of the Newburgh Shipyards Company, the object apparently being to delay work on building ships for the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The plot was defeated by the vigilance of William Hogan, a guard. Hogan saw a man working at the compressor and thought him a workman.

The man suddenly struck the guard over the head with a club and escaped. Hogan was unconscious for a time, but recovered and started a search.

Under a machine he found a bundle which he picked up and hurled as far as he could. As the missile struck, it exploded, tearing up the flooring and breaking about thirty windows.

STEAMER SUNK YESTERDAY

The Cherokee was formerly in the service of the Luckenbach Steamship Company. She was taken over by the navy after the outbreak of the war. The accident occurred yesterday, presumably during the unusually heavy gale that swept the Atlantic seaboard.

A list of the missing is being compiled by the navy department. The naval tug Cherokee formerly belonged to the Luckenbach Steamship Company.

One report to the navy says that ten survivors already have been landed at some point on the coast. Normally the Cherokee carried about forty men. The tug is supposed to have foundered in the heavy gale of yesterday.

Later the navy department was advised that the missing were carrying four bodies to Philadelphia, and that the ten survivors previously reported to were the only ones known out of the complement of five officers and thirty-five enlisted men.

DUCK PLANT IS DECLARED PLOT BY BELL

Investigations following the discovery of wild ducks bearing the name of Harmon Bell, Oakland food administrator and War Service League head, are under way today.

Bell declares that he is investigating the possibility of his name having been placed on the ducks with a view to hampering his work against German propaganda.

Head of the War Service League, Bell is head of the War Service League. Conflicting evidence in the investigation conducted by him, he says, has led to facts which have aroused his suspicion.

"I do not know that there is anything to this yet," he said, "but it is significant that it should have come up just at this time, started by widespread work against propaganda and am head of a powerful organization aiming against such work."

Bell denies all knowledge of the ducks. "I never had any ducks," he said, "and on investigation found that there is no knowledge on the part of the hotel as to when or how they arrived. The hotel is open to criticism in that it did not destroy all game in its ice boxes when the game laws ran out. In the meantime, it is peculiar that, following my work against German propaganda, this thing should suddenly burst forth out of a clear sky."

Bell, in investigating at the hotel, was informed, he states, that one of the hotel attaches had been given the names of all who had ducks in the ice boxes that he might notify them that the season was up. This man, confronted by the attorney, stated that Bell's name was not on the list. The hotel butcher, when questioned by Bell, stated that he could not remember the name among them. He said that some one unknown to him had entered the ice box and had removed some of the ducks from the bunch later found to be labeled with Bell's name. It is on these clues that a searching investigation is being made.

"I am positive that Mr. Bell knew nothing about those ducks," declared Assistant Manager Maurice Schenk of the Hotel Oakland. Schenk further stated that he was willing to take the responsibility for their presence. He denied that the hotel had affixed names of guests to ducks to "cover" any more than the limit, as is common practice among hotels and restaurants, according to the game warden.

The investigation follows the discovery of a number of wild ducks, the season for which is passed, in the hotel ice boxes by Deputy Game Warden J. L. Bundock, who was searching for the ducks for a number of days. Bell's name. Others bore the names of William Bercovich, Mrs. C. T. Hutchinson, George C. Morgan, George C. Walger and Mrs. W. R. Westover. Warrants were issued for the guests.

Russians Throw Defiance to Hun Invasion, They Claim, Will Fail Encourage Fellows to Battle

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The Russian revolution will defend itself against Germany, says an official Russian statement sent out by wireless and which announces that Germany has refused to grant an armistice. The announcement reads:

"We are prepared to sign their peace of capitulation, we have already declared this, but there are many indications that the German imperialists do not desire peace at the present moment, but rather an immediate struggle of the workers and peasants for revolution."

"Resistance to the German people becomes the principal tasks of the revolution—brave, heroic, obstinate and pitiless."

"Every locomotive must be defended. Every possible obstacle must be put in the way of the enemy."

"Even Petrograd itself, which is still far distant, can in no way decide the destiny of the revolution. The people's commissaries can if need be, must retreat, must gather its forces and must appeal to the country to use its whole strength."

"If Germany's plundering raid should advance the task of the government would be to destroy the possibility of a simultaneous catastrophic decision by the Germans. They are attempting to crush the authority of the councils and are in search of it on the routes leading to Petrograd."

"Even if they think they can reach Petrograd by a mere military promenade, we will prove to them that they will have to disperse themselves all over Russia before they can reach and crush the authority of the councils."

"Will they have adequate forces to carry out such a task if we defend ourselves heroically? No. They never will have forces enough. Such an enterprise inevitably will resolve itself into an adventure and will fail. However, deeply they penetrate Russia, then the more surely will they bring about the outbreak of a revolution in Germany. Patience and firmness are necessary."

OPPOSES CHILD LABOR FOR U. S.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 27.—Hullander P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, in outlining the war time policy of the government with regard to schools before the bureau of education of the National Educational Association, department of superintendent, here, said the war should in no ways be used as an excuse for giving children less education, either in quantity or quality.

He declared that children under 16 years of age can be of no assistance in meeting the labor shortage on the farms and that the army and navy cannot use boys under 18.

The best thing the high school boys can do toward winning the war, he said, is to remain in school.

Guests knew of these ducks. The hotel management explained that they might have been left by friends of the guests before the season closed and have been forgotten.

Bell at once investigated, feeling that the implication might hamper his work with the war defense league and as food administrator. This unearthed the mystery surrounding the presence of the birds, and after searching questioning at the hotel, it was learned that Bell's name was not on the list of those to be notified that they had ducks. The lack of knowledge on the part of the butcher, and the circumstance of the unknown man who had access to the ducks heightened the mystery, and a searching inquiry is now under way.

Service of the game warden's warrants has been postponed, pending the investigation.

Money Interned For Duration of War by S. F. Judge

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—On the petition of former Secretary of War Lindley M. Garrison, representing Alien Property Custodian A. Mitchell Palmer, Superior Judge Thomas Graham today ordered interned for the period of the war the sum of $451,000, being a portion of the estate of the late Ignatz Steinhart, president of the German Savings and Loan Society and a pioneer California banker.

The money, which was ordered deposited in the Union Trust Company subject to Palmer's order, represents bequests from Steinhart's $3,000,000 estate left by him to relatives in Germany and Austria-Hungary. It is the first internment in California of money which had formerly belonged to an American citizen.

GERMANS HURLED BACK AT VITEBSK

Bologoe (a small town near Vitebsk, 300 miles west of Moscow, and the same distance south of Petrograd). The German command advancing toward the capital, informed that the Russians had accepted peace, queried their representatives at Brest-Litovsk. The reply came back:

"The advance must continue."

The Germans evidently are determined to occupy Petrograd and are also seeking to cut off the capital from the south.

Makes Rich Blood

Don't expect to derive lasting benefit from a temporary tonic or "pick-me-up." The remedy for chronic weakness, weariness, and nervousness must go to the root of your trouble—the depleted and impoverished red blood cells. So abandon temporary tonics and combine fresh air, sleep, exercise, and diet with a real blood builder such as Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan

"The Red Blood Builder"

The red blood cells are tiny boats which sail up the blood-stream to the lungs. There they take on a cargo of oxygen—the breath of life—and carry and distribute it to all the cells and tissues, feeding them, nourishing them. Gude's Pepto-Mangan creates multitudes of new red blood cells. In that way, it builds your blood and body from the very foundations, which of course is the whole purpose of taking a blood tonic. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is easily digested and assimilated, perfectly harmless, and exceedingly pleasant to the taste. Endorsed by the medical profession.

Take Peptiron Now

Needed in the Spring by Pale, Weak, Nervous People.

Peptiron is in the form of pills, chocolate-coated, pleasant to take, easily assimilated, and is the most successful combination of iron of which its makers, C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass., have any knowledge. You must have an abundance of iron in your blood if you are to be keen, quick and fit in the battle of life, overcome obstacles and know no such thing as failure. For several reasons lack of iron in the blood is more noticeable in the Spring than at any other time.

Besides iron, Peptiron includes peptin, nux, celery and other tonics, nerve helps and digestives. It gives strength, color and body to the blood; reddens pale cheeks, steadies the nerves, improves the digestion, nourishes and gives stamina to the whole body.

It is the tonic Spring medicine for you and for your family.—Advertisement.

SAYS KAISER AIMED AT U.S. TO PAY DEBT

Declaring that the Kaiser's attitude toward the United States was fundamentally based upon a desire to make America pay the German war debt, H. L. Hughes of the Department of Labor, who is in the west as a representative of Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson, declared today that the answer to this country's position in the war rests with the part organized labor is playing. Hughes is to speak before a big mass meeting of workmen in the Oakland auditorium tonight, on the part workmen in war industries and shipbuilding plan are to play.

Discussing the present national labor situation, he said: "Labor has everything at stake in this war. If this war is not won now, then the time in which we can reasonably hope for universal peace will be postponed for many years, during which we will again have to go through all of the political and industrial hell that automatic governments have meant to the human race in the ages gone by, and other great wars will be our portion before the world will again be free. Labor has always paid the price of these struggles. Let us finish the job now and have the terrible business over with for all time.

"Wars are only possible in these days of modern enlightenment where there still remains governments in which the ruling head has irresponsible power, such as that held by the Kaiser of Germany. In a free government, such as that of the United States of America, where the people have for themselves a voice in determining such matters, wars are no longer possible. We never got into this war until the Imperial German Government of Germany brought it to our very doors and made things so hot for us that there was no longer any possibility of escape from the fight. We suffered every imaginable outrage before we could be kicked into the fight. Now that we are in we will give a good account of ourselves.

"The Kaiser, thinking that he had England and France about defeated, was anxious to get into a fight with America as an excuse for waging a war against us in the belief that he could defeat this wonderfully rich nation and compel us to pay the German war debt. He dreams of eventually overcoming England and taking her great navy to come to our shores and impose his will upon this great people.

"It is a serious business we are engaged in. We are to sacrifice the lives of thousands of our finest young men in this struggle. The longer the war lasts the more we will have to pay in human life—your sons and mine; your brothers and mine. We must work and fight like blazes to make the struggle as short as possible. "The workmen of the country are loyal and true, but I am sure that not all of us have yet fully awakened to the fact that we are really at war. The time has been so short, and the struggle seems so far away, but affairs like the sinking of the Lusitania bring it to us in a rather startling way. We must awaken. Every American must do his duty everywhere and in every place.

"I am sure that it is the desire of the administration that the best possible conditions be made for the working men in the war industries of the country so that they may not be overworked by too long hours of hard work and that they be paid a wage that will guarantee proper housing, clothing and nourishment. It is undoubtedly true that the man who has conditions that enable him to conserve his strength and strength is the man who will bring the strongest body and the clearest mind to the accomplishment of the tasks that this hour imposes upon him. That sort of man will prove the nation's most effective and efficient worker.

"These are the conditions that the administration believes are due to the workers of the country. With this as a basis for the nation's industrial policy, it then appears to me that the best policy the workers can pursue is to avail itself of the conciliators in the department of the office of the Secretary of Labor at Washington to settle all industrial disputes that may arise during the period of the war. If this be done, I am sure that the workers will always secure absolute justice, and at the same time we will be able to keep all the war industries running full time. And this is the best aid and support we can render to the government in this hour when the work of every one of our men is so sorely needed.

CITY GAS PLAIN

Mayer Davis was today authorized to file in behalf of the city of Oakland a charge-complaint in the matter of the application of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company for increased rates for supplying electricity to patrons in the city. The city takes the position that the present rates are "high and exorbitant" and asks that meter tax be reduced from $1 a month to 50 cents, citing the circumstances of other cities.

CAMPBELL GIVEN BANQUET.

As a farewell to Thomas Anderson Campbell, local newspaper man who today left for San Pedro to join the naval reserve, a number of his friends gathered last night at a banquet in the Hof Beau restaurant.

100 JANITORS
GET PAY RAISE

More than 100 janitors, or custodians of the public schools, who recently demanded increases in salary, have been taken care of so far as the Civil Service Board is concerned, the matter having been adjusted and turned over to the Board of Education for approval. The salary increases will cost about $2000 additional to the present budget for janitors, according to Secretary Frank Colburn of the Civil Service Board.

Demand on the part of thirty employees on the municipal dredger for an increase of wages that will average $10 a month each has been taken under advisement by the board. The employees served notice that unless the increase is granted by March 1 that they will sever their connections with the city payroll. President Roscoe D. Jones of the board stated that he is opposed to any increase at the present time.

COIN FOR SCHOOLS

State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson has notified County Treasurer M. J. Kelly that the state appropriation of school money has been made and the warrant will be ready in a few days. The appropriation aggregates $291,920.25, of which the grammar schools will receive $257,992.66, and the high schools $33,927.70. The state treasurer is to send this money down without cost to the schools.

Calomel Users! Listen To Me!
I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Your druggist gives back your money if it doesn't liven your liver and bowels and straighten you up without making you sick.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get for a few cents a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.—Advertisement.

3 STEAMER CHIEFS HELD AS PLOTTERS

The master, chief engineer and purser of the steamer Contralla, held at San Pedro, were ordered arrested today, it was announced by federal authorities, upon charges growing out of an investigation of an alleged pro-German plot.

Frank Stark, freight clerk on the Contralla, who succeeded in dodging a guard placed aboard the vessel in San Pedro on Monday, escaping with the official papers, is in San Francisco today and declares that pro-German members of the crew tried three times to wreck the ship during the run from Guaymas to Los Angeles harbor. It was to lay the facts of the conspiracy before the steamer's owners here, he explained. Federal officials have begun an investigation and it is probable that a substitute crew will bring the Contralla to this port.

HELD IN PORT.
The Contralla has been held in port nearly a week while authorities investigated their suspicions that the men took supplies to Germans in the under suspicious circumstances. The men were taken to various points in Central and South America under suspicious circumstances. The men ordered arrested were:

John Benediktson, master of the Contralla.
H. Hoshikoshi, chief engineer.
J. Ortiz, purser.

It also was alleged by federal authorities that the men tried to induce Americans subject to draft who were returning to the United States voluntarily on the vessel to refuse to serve; that they made pro-German declarations and seditious statements.

ACCUSED BY AMERICANS.
The three men claimed to be naturalized American citizens.

The charges against the men were made by some of twenty-three Americans on board as soon as the vessel arrived here from southern waters, it was said.

The Contralla is owned by the Pan-American Steamship Company of San Francisco. She cleared from another port several weeks ago for Manzanillo on the west coast of Mexico, and arrived at Los Angeles with coffee and wood intended for aeroplanes.

WOOLWINE HERE TO MAKE ADDRESS

Thomas L. Woolwine, Democratic candidate for the governorship, arrived in Oakland this afternoon and for the next day or so will be a guest in the Hotel Oakland. Mrs. Woolwine will join him tonight.

Several Democratic stalwarts made the hotel their mecca as soon as word of Woolwine's arrival spread. More are expected for conferences tonight, but there will be nothing of a public nature attached to the candidate's visit until tomorrow night, when he will make a public address in the Blue Room of the hotel.

SCHOOL IN COURT

The final details of the construction of the $64,000 Lincoln school in Alameda came up before Superior Judge Joseph S. Koford today in the shape of a suit by Nick Murillo to collect $156.50 from Nels Anderson and James Ringrose, contractor for extras in connection with a sub-contract to the plaintiff to do the lath and plaster work. The subcontract price of $5000 was paid, but the extras sued for, it is claimed, were occasioned by the irregularity of the walls which, in order to perform the contract to leave them straight and plumb, necessitated additional work.

MURILLO IS FREED.
A verdict of not guilty was returned today in Judge James G. Quinn's department in the trial of Louis Murillo, defended by Attorney Joseph Lacey on a charge of robbery. The jury, the last one of the 1917 panel, and the last all-men jury, deliberated only a few minutes.

OLD GUARD THANK RICKARD AND MYRAN

Resolutions of commendation have been passed by the Old Guard Association, for the manner in which Joseph Rickard and M. B. Myran resented the alleged attempt of a party of ten Germans to drink a toast to the Kaiser in the Faust cafe, two nights ago. The resolutions were passed at the regular meeting of the association in Judge Samuel's court room last night and addressed to Rickard and Myran are as follows:

"Whereas, In the hearing of you two gentlemen a toast to the Kaiser was proposed and drank, which so incensed you and provoked your patriotism that you thoroughly then and there chastized the principals in such traitorous conduct;

"Therefore, the Old Guard Association in meeting assembled hereby resolve to commend your action in this matter so effectively expressing your Americanism and we assert that your action has won our hearty approval and appreciation."

A history of the Old Guard Silk Flag, that was made by the ladies of Oakland in the early sixties was recounted to the Oakland Guard by L. Henry Maloon. Following is a list of the Old Guard who are now living and marched under these colors: Royal I. Auld, E. C. Brown, George Chase, D. B. Bankhead, W. B. Blotie, J. M. Bankhead, Branard C. Brown, R. J. DRAWS BIG NAMES INTO HINDU TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Definite connection of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, celebrated Indian poet and Nobel prize winner, and high officials of the German government, with the Hindu Gadar conspiracy was established today, according to the contention of United States Attorney John W. Preston, by the introduction under an agreement made yesterday when the government rested its case, of letters and telegrams received by British censors as they were being sent from Rye, New York, to Rotterdam, Copenhagen and other European points.

Alfred Zimmerman, former secretary of state of foreign affairs; Count von Luxburg, German ambassador to the United States; were implicated in the document, as was Count Okuma, former Japanese premier, and Count Terauchi, present premier, were favorable to the revolution to disrupt British rule in India, according to a letter sent by von Bernstorff to Z. N. G. Officers at Amsterdam.

Count von Bernstorff, as late as June 15, 1916, said in one letter as follows: "The first batch of revolutionaries to reach their destination have reported success. Many are afraid that if arms are made available soon there will be a premature uprising in India. Fifty thousand copies of 'Why the Indians are revolting against British rule' are available."

Another suggested that the purchase of two Japanese submarines was not necessary, "as they are already agreeable to our interests and have decided to attack the Anglo-Japanese treaties."

Others introduced from Zimmerman to von Bernstorff through Count von Luxburg authorize the payment of thousands of dollars to Dr. C. K. Chakravarty and others prominent in the present trial.

SOCIETY

While Oakland society holds forth tonight at the Macdonough Theater, at its benefit performance for the Red Cross, the Alameda chapter will benefit by an evening of literature, pantomime and dancing, which is to be given in the "Tori" theater at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wellington Emmons, the Alameda City. The arrangement for the benefit was completed by the two daughters of the household, the Misses Gladys and Gertrude Emmons. All of the participants are graduates of the Edith Cohn Noyes school of expression in Boston and since their return have taken a prominent part in many of the large entertainments for both the service set and charities.

The "Tori" is a replica of a real theater, the ballroom of the home having been transformed for the interesting undertaking, and it is here that many of the benefits for relief are to be staged in the future.

Miss Gladys Emmons is to give a reading of "Sire de Malesherbes Door," and Miss Katherine Huxley is to read one of Yeats' Irish plays. Billed in a pantomime of her own work is Mrs. George Bell, the former Miss Rose von Schmidt. Several of the delightful dancing numbers as well as pantomime to be given by Miss Doris Huxley, while dancing will complete the evening's program.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Jessie Minthorp of Berkeley and Clark Crowell Dresser, the wedding of the couple having been solemnized last Tuesday evening at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Berkeley. Attending the ceremony were Miss Janet Dresser, sister of the bridegroom, while Lieutenant Evan Dresser served as best man.

A coterie of friends who meet regularly to sew or knit for the Red Cross are to assemble at the home of Miss Edith Huxley at 1245 Franklin, March 5, the war work to follow a simply appointed "war luncheon."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adams have received word from Washington, D. C., of the arrival of a little son in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adams in Los Angeles (Elizabeth Merrill). Adams is in the service of his country and has been stationed in the East for some time. Mrs. Adams was a former Los Angeles belle, the marriage of the couple having been an event of the past year.

Miss Blanche Arendt is making her home at the Hotel Claremont for the winter, and on Saturday afternoon last presided as hostess at a bridge party in the Palm room to a number of her friends. Those present were asked to share the pleasure of the afternoon were: Miss Estelle Rubin, Miss Lucy Greer, Miss J. Watkins, Miss A. Mellon, Miss Linda Arendt, Miss Lella Russell, Miss Florence Bloch, Miss M. Heath, Mrs. J. B. Browne, Mrs. J. H. Brooks, Mrs. A. S. Brown, Mrs. A. K. Chinski, Mrs. Harold Karschinski, Mr. R. Arendt, Mrs. J. Marx and Mrs. Emil Schonwasser.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. James Tyson will have at her home a group of friends to see for the Red Cross, a dozen or more friends convening each week for this purpose.

Members of the Chi Omega sorority of Berkeley are to attend the ball given by the Radio school of Mars Island Friday evening, the affair to be held at the Palace hotel, San Francisco. The sorority will attend in a body.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Vesey, who were married in Sacramento Saturday evening by Rev. D. C. Newell at the bride's home, are to have their honeymoon in the bay section. Vesey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Vesey of this city, and following a brief wedding itinerary, is to take his bride to Fallon, Nev., to make her home.

Mrs. Vesey is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Marchand of Sacramento.

The ninth birthday of her daughter, Dorothy, was the motive that prompted Mrs. Walter Clarke, to give a delightful children's party last Saturday afternoon at her home in Rockridge. The dainty decorations of tiny ketchup dolls and pink roses made an effective setting for the occasion. A large pink rose filled with pretty favors ornamented the table, where sweets were served at the close of the happy afternoon. The small people present were: Dorothy Clarke, Edith Revert, Francis Ferguson, Clesan Moore, Estelle Ferguson, Phyllis Moore Jr., Charles Slingerland, Phyllis Chamberlain, Marion Ruh, Ethel Moore, Walter Clarke Jr. and Helen Merriam.

"Rosereast," the William Griffith Henshaw home in Vernon Heights, was the center of a large gathering this afternoon, the occasion being the first of the Lenten opera recitals given by Sydney Francis Hoben.

These recitals have received a large response from the east bay set who have been subscribers for this season. Sponsors for the series are: Mrs. Charles T. Rodolph, Mrs. Walter W. Moore, Mrs. Frank Hunt Proctor, Mrs. Alla Henshaw Chickering, Mrs. Lucie May Hayes, Mrs. Charles Kenney, Mrs. Taylor Henshaw, Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Mrs. Edward Lacey Brayton, Mrs. Clarence Wetmore, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Louis Ghrardelli, Mrs. Charles Youngberg, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Miss Emma Farrier and Miss Alice Grimes.

San Francisco friends of Mrs. W. G. Henshaw were here guests at luncheon today preceding the opera recital. The affair was handsomely appointed with spring bloom.

Tonight is the night of the large Free Wool Fund Benefit of the Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross, when hundreds will attend the performance of "Romance" to witness the debut of ten east bay matrons in the beautiful production. In the audience the younger girls and Mrs. William Thornton White, Mrs. Walter Moore, Mrs. Percy Black and Mrs. Percival Walker will dispense with nosegays, autographed photos and sweets.

The lovely little bouquets have been made from the flowers of the Piedmont garden, by the committee having this in charge.

In April the marriage of Miss Florence Scott and Cecil H. Straub is to be the culmination of a pretty college romance, both being graduates of the University of California. The wedding

How, Why Of Food Conservation

PRACTICAL HINTS BY OAKLAND FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Edited by Mrs. W. E. Gibson, Director

Housewife, do you YET realize the tremendous responsibility resting upon you? Think well upon the following extracts of a letter written by the food administrator of our State, who KNOWS, to the newly appointed county food administrators of the State.

Preach to your people that:

1. Failure to follow the Food Administration's requests may lose the war.

2. The Food Administration program is:

Elimination of waste in food, in personal use, on the farm and in distribution.

Substitute other foods for wheat, beef, pork and sugar.

Eat only sufficient to make you efficient.

Cut down use of wheat in home and public use at least one-third.

Stop using ham or bacon, except under the rationing orders, where necessary to maintain health.

Cut down SUGAR at least one-tenth of normal use.

Use beef as little as possible; when meat must be eaten use mutton, lamb or fresh pork.

Observe WHEATLESS DAYS and wheatless meals, porkless days and porkless meals.

The United States is a democracy at war for the preservation of democracy.

In a democracy the burden of responsibility is upon the people, and this part of the burden is in a great measure a responsibility of the housewife.

If ever the woman, who ministers to the physical needs of the family,

List your improved lots and acreage with Mrs. James Hamilton at room 420 Central Bank building, or call Merritt 1278 or Oakland 132.

Grow Potatoes and Save Flour and Meat.

By MRS. JAMES HAMILTON, Chairman of Food Production Under County Farm Advisor Lee.

One of the best steps that can be taken in the conservation of food, is the planting of back yards and vacant lots to potatoes. Potatoes will largely take the place of wheat and meat in the diet, and increase in their use will indicate the best progress of our allies and soldiers.

A great deal of space in the form of vacant lots and empty lots goes to waste each year and everyone should be able to grow enough potatoes for their own use. The following directions will indicate the best practices.

Potatoes will do best on light, well-drained soils, and preference should be given to the following varieties:

Soil well 10 to 12 inches deep; adding manure, the seed should be planted as soon as possible. Plant in rows 20 to 24 inches apart. Good seed should be and thereby the nation, needed the knowledge of food values it is now. Since wheat has heretofore been the chief source of the starch foods, we must learn to look to other sources for that food, so also with the other foods that must be given the army and allies. Teachers and demonstrators will be supplied wherever a group of women so desire.

We are especially urged to eat abundantly of potatoes and colored beans. Potatoes furnish fuel for the body. They give you salts like other vegetables.

POTATOES SAVE WHEAT

POTATO CORN MEAL MUFFINS.

Two tablespoons fat.

One tablespoon sugar.

One egg, well beaten.

One cup milk.

One cup mashed potatoes.

One cup corn meal.

Four teaspoons baking powder.

One teaspoon salt.

Mix in order given. Bake forty minutes in hot oven. These make twelve muffins. They are delicious.

Other recipes for the use of potatoes may be obtained at headquarters of the Women's Committee, 420 Central Bank building.

used, preferably tubers of a good size for baking. These should be cut into 2 or 3 sets of about 2 inches each, leaving at least two eyes to the piece, and the sets planted about 1 foot apart in the rows, and from 4 to 6 inches deep. During growth the soil should be cultivated frequently to keep down the weeds and to prevent evaporation of water. It is very important to keep a uniform and constant supply of moisture in the ground, not allowing it to become too wet nor too dry. The potato should not be irrigated after starting to mature.

For early or quick-growing potatoes, Early Rose and Chili varieties are probably best. American Wonder is a good variety for late planting.

The Burbank variety will be later in maturing, but is one of the most popular varieties, 5 pounds of seed potatoes will be sufficient for 100 of row.

THE HOME VEGETABLE GARDEN

By Carous A. Lee, County Farm Advisor

When you have made up your mind that you want to grow a vegetable garden, whether it be (1) because you want to help the Government by increasing the food supply to the extent of your ability, or (2) because you think you will save money by so doing, or (3) because you believe that vegetables fresh from the garden are far superior to any which you can buy, or any of the many reasons that might be mentioned, you must consider these essentials:

(1) The will and determination to succeed. Without a strong desire, determination or will, it is impossible for work to be done.

(2) Location. The garden should be located in a place where it is easily accessible to the dwelling. However, where a choice of location does exist, the garden should be located on rich, light, well-drained soil. A warm sunny loan will produce an earlier crop than a heavier soil that retains more moisture and less heat.

(3) Seeds or plants which will produce desired crops. The choice of crops depends on the following:

(a) Size of garden. Some crops, such as potatoes, corn, melons, cucumbers, etc., take a relative large amount of room in proportion to the food produced.

(b) Size and taste of the family. Grow the most of those crops which the family like and which are costly to buy and the least of those which can be purchased in equally as good condition on the market.

(c) Local conditions as to (1) soil (root crops don't do their best in heavy soil); (2) Moisture (lettuce, radishes, etc.); the quick growing crops need an ample supply of moisture available at all times; (3) Climatic conditions.

(d) Sunshine and warmth to bring about germination and plant development.

Miss Winona McConnell now assistant in the state library in Sacramento, is a former University of California student whose engagement to Dr. John E. Kennedy is announced. Revelations of a Wife

by Adele Garrison

"WHO IS NELLIE?" I asked. I fondly believed that my voice held only ordinary interest. "If this coffee is made after her recipe I'd like to meet her."

"Nellie's name," I said faintly. My ideas of models had been gleaned from stories and magazine jects. I always had realized vaguely that Dicky must employ female models, but our courtship and marriage had been such a whirlwind affair that Dicky's work had not entered into it. I realized now that I never had seen Dicky's studio, and that he never had asked me to see it. Why?

"The maddest little question slipped into my brain and curled down in an unused cell to come out later and torment me."

"A model," Dicky returned, "and one of the most interesting women I know. She has a mysterious personality, nobody ever has been able to fathom, although all of us have tried hard enough, at one time or another. I think she is a widow, although no one really knows. But she is a really good scout, always trying to do some little favor for us. Many of the things she has done for me, I had long ago without her I would have gone all day without stopping to eat."

"Is she attractive?" I hated myself for the question. My brain must be added from the machine.

"Oh, a winner," Dicky returned, smiling. "The boys are all quite mad about her. But she is very impartial. She distributes smiles and coffee, mending and cough drops to us alike, the just and the unjust. I am quite proud, however, that she has been the nicest gentleman in all the studios."

The quotation jarred upon me. This girl, whoever she was, must be quite common and uninteresting. Doubtless she was beautiful, however. I understood that she was a widow, and I wondered for which one of Dicky's numerous covers she had posed. As if he had read my thoughts, he arose.

"You are so interested in 'Nellie,' the beautiful cloak model, that you are not going to see the new one, 'Nellie,' who is one of the covers for which she posed, if you promise to finish every 'crumb.'"

He went into his room where he kept a pile of his drawings and returned in a moment with one which he spread out before me with a face bristling with mischief. A tall, comely colored woman, distinctly middle-aged, with a most infectious smile, was holding out her arms to a tottering pockmarked, while around her several other woolly-headed young stevedores were clustered.

"This is 'Nellie,'" he said, whimsically, and then, bending over me, he kissed me tenderly.

"It was a shame to tease you, Madge; but you are usually so calm and so patient. I don't want to let you get a rise out of you. Can you finish your dinner now?"

"I've never stopped eating it," I returned with spirit.

But Dicky laughed teasingly. He was in his good humor when he left me, after seeing to it that I finished every bit of the food he had ordered at such expense.

"A man from the hotel will come for the tray after a while," he said as he was ready to go.

"Thank you so much, Dicky, for the dinner," I replied. "I can't imagine now that I ever had a headache."

"Confess now, I want to have come back with interest if I hadn't revealed the fact that Nellie was as black as the ace of spades."

"Don't be foolish, Dicky," I said shortly, and his ringing laugh came back to me as he closed the door.

"I don't want to let you get a rise out of you. Can you finish your dinner now?"

"I don't want to let you get a rise out of you. Can you finish your dinner now?"

Make Your Complexion Clear

Lemon Juice Before Breakfast Aids

Almond Meal a Fine Bleach.

Every woman, if she cares a straw about her appearance, desires to be the possessor of a clear, rose-tinted complexion. Even the fortunate one who can boast of a smooth, white skin is anxious to preserve its natural loveliness.

Few women realize how important constant attention is to preserve the skin in its velvety texture and brilliant coloring, and that with advancing age the care must be increased.

Absolute cleanliness is the first requisite. No skin will remain clear very long unless it is kept clean. Should you sweat, then scrub and wash with soap and water, using a cleansing cream or oil.

Almond meal or bran is excellent for softening, cleaning and bleaching the skin. Rub the meal, softened with water, into the skin. It will rub out again and with it will come the dust that has collected in the pores. After the almond meal bath, the skin should be bathed with warm water and then with cold water to which tincture of benzoin or witch hazel has been added to act as an astringent.

A brown, muddy complexion is frequently due to an inactive liver or to indigestion. If either of these are the causes of the sallowness, a physician should be consulted, since all the external applications in the world will fail to get the slightest effect.

If, however, the outer layer of skin has become brown and unattractive from purely external causes, it can be made clear again through a bleaching process. The following treatment is excellent for clearing the complexion.

Rub the face, before washing it, with two teaspoons of flour of sulphur, mixed with a half-pint of warm, soft water. This mixture should stand a little while before being applied to the face.

In order to keep the tissues beneath the skin firm and well-nourished and the skin itself soft and pliable, it is necessary to massage the face with a good skin food every night before retiring. Use a rotary motion that will work the nourishing oils well into the skin.

The formula for an excellent massage cream is printed below:

Lanolin 2 1/2 ounces
Spermaceti 5 drams
White vaseline 2 1/2 ounces
Cocoon oil 2 ounces
Sweet almond oil 2 ounces
Tincture of benzoin 1/2 dram

Melt the first five ingredients together and beat until the mass concretes, adding the benzoin drop by drop during this process.

The juice of half a lemon taken in a glassful of hot water, before breakfast each morning, will do much toward clearing a muddy complexion.

Honey and almond cream possesses softening and bleaching qualities that make it a toilet preparation to be recommended to the woman whose complexion is sallow. It is a mixture of the following ingredients:

Strained honey 1 ounce
Powdered white sugar 1/2 ounce
Oil of sweet almonds 1/2 ounce
Oil of bitter almonds 1/2 dram
Oil of bergamot 1/2 dram
Balsam of peru 1/2 dram
Liquor of potassa 1/2 dram
Oil of cloves 1/2 dram

Mix the oils with the balsam. Then mix the honey with the soap in a mortar, adding enough of the potassa to protect.

Kitchen Economies

Fish three times a day is just as repelling as meat three times a day ought to be. But since we are asked to avoid the use of meats as much as possible it behooves the patriotic housewife to endeavor to get variety into her fish recipes so that she can substitute it frequently.

Fish, of course, has a much stronger and more pronounced flavor than meat dishes, consequently it is necessary to introduce new serving methods so that it will not pall on the appetite when served frequently.

FISH AU GRATIN.
1 cupful of flaked, cooked fish.
1 cupful of cooked macaroni.
1 cupful of mashed potatoes.
2 cupfuls of white sauce.
2 tablespoonsful of cheese.

Line a buttered baking dish with macaroni. Cover with a layer of fish, then potatoes, continuing until all ingredients are used. Pour white sauce over all, sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in a moderate oven for twenty to thirty minutes.

FISHBALLS WITH NUTS.
2 pounds of any cooked chopped fish.
1/2 cupful of salted peanuts.
1-2 teaspoonful of salt.
1/2 cupful of water.
2 tablespoonsful of chopped herbs (separately).

Chop the peanuts, ham and fish. Gradually mix the cornstarch with water and salt, add to fish and stir thoroughly for 15 or 20 minutes, then add the nuts and ham and continue mixing. Take up by small spoonfuls, form into little balls and drop into a pan of boiling water. As soon as they come to the top they are finished. Serve with any sauce preferred. Tomato, cream sauce or with other vegetables.

FIGHT FOR PEACE!

Through Chancellor Von Hertling the Prussian militarists voice the criminal policy of "might is right" and that the "necessity" of Germany knows no law and is entitled to disregard the interests and rights of all other peoples who may have been placed in the way of the ambition for world empire. The sentiments of Von Hertling today are the same as the sentiments uttered in 1914 by the Kaiser, Von Bethmann-Hollweg and Von Jagow.

In harmony therewith Belgium and Luxembourg were invaded and the former laid waste, its public buildings destroyed, its citizens murdered, the art objects and other property of the people stolen;
 the Lusitania was sunk; German agents carried out incendiary and murderous plots in America and in other neutral countries; treaties became scraps of paper; the law of nations was repudiated and violated without conscience or mercy.

Von Hertling's voice still is the voice of un-nighly-faced thing which President Wilson has characterized as being without conscience, without honor and without the capacity for covenanted peace. It is useless to consider it or to listen to it.
 The long-distance public discussions which the allied governments, including the United States, have been indulging in with the faint hope that Germany might be ready to recognize the inevitable should now be discontinued.

The outlaw of the world must be subdued by the methods he has chosen to destroy nations and annihilate peoples. Peace after victory on the battlefield! Let there be talk for a while with artillery, small arms, explosives, airplanes, ships and fighting men. More ships and more fighting men to the battle line in France!

AMERICANIZATION OF ALIENS.

The State council section of the Council of National Defense, with the approval of the federal government, has recommended to the various State defense councils a more active program for the thorough Americanization of alien residents in the United States and of naturalized citizens who have so far gained but a meagre conception of their duties as citizens. The plan drawn up some time ago by the federal Bureau of Education is endorsed by the Council of National Defense and this is to be the working basis of Americanization.

Many of the steps outlined in this program have already been attempted, by communities, local boards of education and civic organizations, but not on any broad, coordinated scheme of nationwide pretensions. California has already made noteworthy progress in showing its alien and naturalized immigrant population the ways of citizenship. But more comprehensive efforts than any heretofore attempted is possible. They are given in detail by the federal Bureau of Education and this subject should receive prompt attention by the California Council of Defense and the various permanent official bodies concerned with citizenship problems.

After all that is possible under the proposed campaign of Americanization is accomplished, however, there still will be deficiencies in the quality of the citizenship of the foreign-born and those born of foreign parents. These can be corrected only by national and State legislation.

First, there should be some law requiring that every citizen, native or naturalized, to do something that will make him realize his partnership in the body of people that comprises the American nation. Universal military training has been urged —and this is one of the strong arguments in favor of universal training—as the ideal instrument to impart such a salutary understanding of the duties and obligations of citizenship.

There should also be a legislative device that will bar the morally undesirable who come here from other lands seeking haven and a platform for the enunciation of revolutionary ideas. Universal military training would be useful in this respect also. Then formation of societies and alliances that have for their prime object the advancement of the interests of other countries should be prohibited. They serve to chain the attention and fealty of citizens of alien origin to interests and ideals other than those of American citizenship.

 They make the oath of naturalization a farce on the one hand and a mask to anti-American designs on the other.

In addition the federal authorities should more strictly enforce the laws that have been enacted against revolutionary agents from other lands operating here, the incitement from within American territory of revolt against the government of a friendly nation and the carrying on of propaganda in favor of foreign political interests.

The subject of Americanization cries for attention from the States, the local communities and the federal government with equal earnestness.

SUGAR FROM THE CACTUS.

Mr. Luther Burbank's prediction that the spineless cactus will before long contribute a notable addition to the sugar resources of the world will create profound interest. Mr. Burbank developed the spineless cactus from the unapproachable thornless variety and whatever he says with regard to this former desert outcast immediately attracts attention. He has made the new variety produce fifty tons of fruit to the acre. It is unaffected by drought or rainfall, the two essential characteristics of an absolutely dependable crop.

The California plant wizard has not consulted with chemists, but he assures us that the cactus sugar may be refined in the form of glucose, which is the basis of most candies and is used as a binder in practically all. Therefore the least that is promised by the cactus is a tremendous saving in cane and beet sugar by providing an acceptable substitute for the candy industry.

But further developments in the chemical treatment of the sugar or glucose content of the fruit of the cactus may give us a perfectly agreeable and meritorious kind of sugar in addition to those now in use. If it does the arid spaces of the United States will be made to give up for the use of the world the raw material for a necessary staple of food. Such a development would bring about a readjustment of economic conditions in many countries and add materially to the economic independence of the United States.

ONE MILLION INSURED.

The latest report received here from the Treasury Department with reference to the soldiers' and sailors' insurance system shows that at the close of business on February 13th over one million soldiers and sailors and army and navy nurses had applied for government insurance. The amount of insurance applied for is more than $8,000,000,000.
 The maximum permitted to any person is $10,000, and the average applied for is $8,212. There are many applications mailed from distant points which have not yet reached the Treasury Department. The above figures are only of applications that have been actually received and granted.

The amount of government insurance in force is more than three times as much as the total ordinary life insurance in force with any life insurance company in the world.

The splendid result which gives to more than a million of the soldiers and sailors of our country
 the benefits of this insurance, which Secretary Mc-Adoo has justly described as the most just and humane provision ever made by any government for its fighting men, is due to the quick appreciation by the beneficiaries of the value of the insurance and the invaluable aid patriotically given to the War Risk Insurance Bureau of the Treasury by the press of the country, the officers of the army and navy, and many of the individual soldiers and sailors, to which must be added the earnest and efficient work of officers and agents of the insurance companies, fraternal beneficiary associations and many patriotic organizations.

The time within which insurance may be applied for has been extended by a general resolution of Congress, approved by the President, until April 12, 1918. The automatic insurance, however, which automatically gave insurance to all entitled to receive it until February 12, although no application was made, has expired. Hereafter only those who have applied for and received policies will receive insurance.

It is the duty of every soldier and sailor to take out an insurance policy with the government as soon after he joins the service as possible. His self-satisfaction over having done a thing that safeguards those who may be dependent upon him and insuring against his becoming dependent upon others as a result of the fortunes of war will itself be a sufficient return from the investment of the very low premiums necessary to carry government insurance.

Secretary of the Interior Lane reports that he is short in the examining force of the United States Patent Office and has made a public appeal for help. It seems that some of the employees have left the government service to go to war and others have retired to private business. The Patent Office is now fifteen examiners short of the normal force, so the government of the United States grinds out a publicity bulletin calling upon the newspapers for help. Inasmuch as the army and navy have called their reserves into action, Mr.
 Lane thinks that scientific men should constitute a reserve patent corps, and he appeals to those who can devote a year of their time to join this force.
 Being willing to contribute its service to the government in small as well as large things, THE TRIBUNE passes on the word, fully confident that out of the hundred million there will be found fifteen men willing to respond to the Patent Office's urgent appeal.

NOTES AND COMMENT

"Hertling favors four Wilson peace planks." But he will have to approve the whole invoice before it can become a transaction.

We must expect the long-threatened drive of the Huns on the western front either today or tomorrow, as there has been a campaign of warning with the declaration that "never in history will the memory of this February be effaced."

LaFollette again. The State Senate rejected a resolution condemning him for his attitude toward the war by a vote of 26 to 3, indicating that there is not much ambiguity to the Wisconsin view.

We will have to revise the oft-repeated assertion that imprisonment for debt is a thing of the past. A current news account tells how an attachment has been levied against the person of a man who owed a debt, and how he was haled to jail, and there confined till a bond was furnished for his release. No particulars relieve this incident of its identity with the practice of imprisonment for debt that formerly prevailed.

Secretary Houston is referred to as "a food optimist." There is no question but an optimist on this subject is a considerable relief, for food conservation has been dinned into us rather persistently. But we must understand that it will not do to be too optimistic about the nation's supply.

The military authorities have an effectual way of dealing with vice conditions in the vicinity of camps and posts. They simply notify municipalities and whom it may concern that regulations and precautions to observe military prohibitions must be better enforced or they will take a hand themselves. That doesn't leave much room for argument.

Congressman Fuller of Massachusetts characterizes the House of Representatives as the "most inefficient and expensive barnacle that ever attached itself to a ship of State." The arraignment is unique and severe, but from anything that is read in connection with it it does not appear that the arraigner has voluntarily ceased to be an integer of the barnacle.

When Governor Stephens presides over the deliberations of the State Council of Defense at the meetings to be held in San Francisco March 5

 that will differentiate him as a candidate for Governor. He is entitled to do so, at any time.

Another instance of the difficulty of

It is a most edifying fact that every large city of the Pacific coast has indorsed the Helms report—which recommends the Alameda site for a new naval base—and stands in to further the effort to have the report made effective by Congressional action. It shows a disappearance of the jealousies that sometimes shape the actions of competing communities in such big national projects.

The shooting of a fisherman by a guard, because the former had trespassed on forbidden ground and failed to heed a challenge, was unfortunate, but it must be realized that this country has been lackadaisical as to such things all too long. It is going to be rather distressing if enforcing this regulation shall involve tragedies, but it is necessary to have it known that the government means business.

The free lunch, a custom that has attained its highest development in San Francisco, is doomed through official action. There will be some to hold that we have come upon evil times when it is made unlawful to give away a snack. But a lot of things must now be considered, and the matter cannot be discussed that way.

Allenby's forces are now camped along the Jordan—a river that is said to greatly disappoint those who approach it in reverence through the biblical and hymnal allusions. The profane testimony is that it is an uninteresting and piddling stream.

THE ANSWER!

BOY SCOUTS ENLIST WAR SAVING ARMY

The 350,000 Boy Scouts of America have been asked by the Secretary of the Treasury to enlist an army of war savers throughout the country. The scouts have instructions from their national headquarters to ring every doorbell in the land, deliver a short talk on the necessity of saving, and take orders for government war-saving securities—the 2-cent and 5-cent thrift stamps.

President Wilson will write a personal letter of thanks to the scout in each state who has the highest record of sales during the year, and the wives of the cabinet members have offered to give a victory flag in each state to the troop standing at the top at the end of the year.

Secretary McAdoo, in his appeal to the scouts, says:
 "Your splendid work in the Liberty Loan campaigns proved that the government can count on you and your organization. Knowing that you are always ready to serve your country, and realizing how widely war-savings stamps may be sold through your efforts, I take pleasure in presenting you another opportunity."

Five million red post cards have been printed by the government for the special use of the scouts. These are orders for the local postmaster to deliver savings stamps. The boys will take the orders for stamps from house to house, drop the signed cards in the mail box, and the postoffice will do the rest.

James E. West, chief scout executive, sent this message to each of the 15,000 scout troops over the country:
 "It is the duty and privilege of every loyal citizen to help the nation in its hour of need, and every dollar saved helps win the war. As the Secretary of the Treasury has so well said: 'Our first duty in this critical time is to economize, to avoid waste, to place all our available resources at the disposal of the government.'

War-savings stamps are issued by the government to induce saving, discourage waste, and conserve the habits of thrift throughout the country. Scouts are expected to work for the war-savings campaign every day in the year and to will save and lend their savings to the government."

An ace medal, similar to the aviators' decoration, will be awarded scouts taking orders for $250, and palms will be given for each additional $100.

War savings are now coming into the treasury at the rate of nearly $2, 000,000 a day, or at a rate equal to the entire receipts of the government a few years ago.

 gles says there are privates and of-

 in such times as these.—Fresno

One of the strange stories that are the price is also "piling up" is rather its disbelief.

SAY WOMEN NOT NEEDED IN WAR ZONE

When Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Potter, a member of the Oakland Free Library staff, requested the Civil Service Board for a leave of absence which would permit her to go to Belgium to engage in relief work under the auspices of the Red Cross, quite innocently she started a discussion which today has raged through the east shore cities. Her petition was not refused. Neither was it granted. It will be considered again when the civil service board meets next week.

Action was delayed because of the belief by some of the board members that women are not necessary in the war-devastated districts.

Mrs. Potter is a sister of Prentiss Gray who was with Herbert Hoover during his food administration in Belgium and who is now connected with the federal administration. Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, Potter who has been a leader in the local defense, the War Camp Community Committee and various other war service bodies, is a sister.

Miss Helen Kimball, who has rendered service to the local Red Cross a generous service in discussing impersonally the attitude taken last evening said: "I have understood that there are great numbers of women in Europe and many of them are not needed. It is the trained nurse who is in demand. I am not able to say, however, that this is true."

"Really, I think there have been too many women rushing to Europe," declared Mrs. Fred Samuels. "This is war. I feel that women can do their best work by remaining at home and doing the things that have to be done here. There is plenty to keep them busy without going away to find it."

Propose City Curb Market Would Serve Temporarily Seattle Project Is Cited

By HARRY L. SULLEY.

The municipal curbstone market, as it has been developed in many cities, is being offered by many of those who are studying the Oakland problem as a temporary solution to present difficulties of which consumer and producer alike complain. Dean Hunt of the College of Agriculture of the University of California, Farm Advisor Marcus A. Lee, E. C. Kayser, chairman of the market committee of the Alameda County Civic Association, and others have recommended that the street, or open market, should be tried out in Oakland to meet the immediate needs of the situation.

It is not suggested that the curbstone market will be a permanent solution to the problem here. The need of refrigeration, of proper sanitary conditions, of protection from the weather, would serve to enforce the recommendations of the Oakland Board of Market Directors that a permanent building should be constructed by the city as soon as funds can be made available.

But in two months the farm produce will require an outlet, and it is desired that some means be provided for this year's market stuffs to go direct from producer to consumer. There is ample time in the next month for the various organizations interested in the market situation to get together and formulate plans for the establishment of a curbstone market, if that is finally decided upon as advisable to meet the immediate needs of the situation.

The development of the curbstone market in several of the smaller cities was described in the columns of THE TRIBUNE yesterday. Today an account will be given of curbstone markets in several Pacific Coast cities, notably Seattle and Portland.

The Seattle curb market has been established since 1907, and has been a "howling success," to quote the words of a correspondent in that city. That this enthusiasm is not misplaced is indicated by the cold statistics given by United States Census of City Statistics and the report of the National Municipal League, as follows:

Seattle, population in 1910, 237,194; amount invested in municipal markets up to 1915, $13,500; net profit from market last year, $25,211; number of stalls, 240; percentage of stalls rented, 100; percentage of farmers among stall renters, 100; professional retailers, none; attendance at market, 30,000 to 50,000 daily.

In describing the market M. T. Stevens, sanitary engineer, writes an interesting letter, remarkable for its frankness, in criticizing the market, while setting forth its good points. He says:

"Our market is known as a curb market; that is, the farmers' tables are arranged along the curb at the side of the street. Of course, we do not think our market is much, but from the number of inquiries we have received from those who have visited it or heard about it, it would appear to be an unusually attractive place. We know, of course, that it is not properly laid out, but it is the best the city can afford at this time."

THE EXTENT OF MARKET.
"The market extends for a distance of about two blocks along the side of Pike Place, and really has but one entrance, which condition creates strife among the farmers who are compelled to draw lots for their stall locations each day, as it is natural they should prefer to be near the entrance."

"The farmers are charged ten cents a day for their stalls. The stalls are tables 3 feet wide by 5 feet long, and the farmers are permitted to use the space at the rear of the stall to a depth of about 5 feet and the same width."

"We require each producer to file with us some sort of instrument which shows his authority for occupying the land upon which his produce is grown. He must file a bona fide producer, that is, we do not permit a farmer to purchase goods from another farmer and display same for sale on our market. This requires the attention of the inspectors at all times. Every once in a while we catch some of the farmers doing a little of this so-called crooked work. We either take them into court and fine them, or suspend them from the market for a certain number of days."

"We are fortunate in having our market located as near the retail business center as possible, also near a point where the greatest number of cars pass. It is from one to three blocks of main car line in the city, and within the same distance of the department stores, so that the housewife may shop around among the stores and on her way home, may get her household supplies."

In a later letter, giving additional details, Engineer Stevens gives some

29 ALLEGED FOOD MISERS ARE EXPOSED

Names of twenty-nine alleged food hoarders in various sections of the state, from whom sugar and flour have been seized within the past six weeks by deputies of State Superintendent of Weights and Measures Charles G. Johnson, acting with the authority of the United States Food Administration, were made public today by Federal Food Commissioner Ralph P. Merritt.

A total of 4722 pounds of sugar and 1990 pounds of flour were seized and returned to the selling firms whose names were also announced. Those in whose homes and places of business the sugar and flour was found are liable to prosecution under the section of the food control act which provides penalties for hoarding foodstuffs.

Wholesale prevention of the dealers for violation of the regulation which limits the sale of sugar and flour is expected to follow this exposure. The maximum punishment is a fine of $5000 or six months' imprisonment or both. Three score additional alleged violators of the hoarding law will be made public as rapidly as sufficient evidence is secured upon which to convict.

Suggestions for a market here. He says: "Nothing but produce grown strictly on his own land, or land rented or leased by him, should be handled by the farmer in the market. Also, all commission goods should be prohibited on the farmers' market."

"I would suggest that some system be devised for the disposal of all leftover goods each day, such as an auction sale, or other means, thus insuring fresh goods to the public each day."

Stevens also describes the canvas awning and metal supports used in inclement weather to protect the farmers, their goods and the public in the market, and makes suggestions as to an "ideal market building."

The City of Portland market is similar in many ways to that of Seattle. The city has invented a system of "sheds" along the curb used by the farmers as stalls. These sheds, which include tables, platforms and framework for awnings, are made in such a way that they can be folded up every day, after they have been in use, to enable the street flushers and sweepers to clean up everything with but little inconvenience.

There are 1,000 feet of these stall sheds. The market, according to report, is a pronounced success. The following is the statement for last week supplied by Market Master J. A. Eastman:

Receipts $7,038.65
Expenses 2,240.41
Net balance to city $4,798.24

MUST WIN, OR STATE WILL BE A BELGIUM

"This war must be fought on the French front, or California will be the next Belgium!"

This is the warning voiced today before the Manufacturers' Bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce by Dr. Frederick Vining Fisher, representative of the National Council of Defense. He declared that the German hosts advancing across Russia may eventually menace America from the West, unless America strikes hard enough in France to prevent this. He urged that every community unite in war work and that every resource be thrown into the struggle for Democracy.

Fisher, who formerly was director of lectures at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, is conducting a campaign to organize communities throughout the United States into war work activities. He urged that every city form war organizations representing all classes.

ALL LOOK TO AMERICA.

"We can never go back to the before the war days," declared Fisher during his talk, "for the future world will be a world either of Prussianism, anarchy as in Russia, or American democracy. Our efforts will determine which, and the whole world looks to America. I don't know what you need in your community organizations, but I wonder if your labor classes are represented here. Cleavage of classes is one of the grave dangers that America is facing. It is this that made the Russian revolution a failure. The Russian revolution of right and not of duty. I wish that the word right was stricken out of the dictionary and the words duty substituted."

WOULD ENSLAVE WORLD.

"The supreme power of Germany lies in the fact that her people were educated to imperialism, and we have to show the world that we can get the same efficiency in partnership as in being bossed by a Kaiser. I would rather have 100 ordinary men pulling together than one big man working by himself. This is not a war of an hour. In fact, Pershing has rented his house in Paris for five years. The Kaiser has started to enslave the world and has come near to doing it. The final accounting is up to America."

Joseph R. Knowland presided. He was introduced by President H. C. Canwell. Knowland spoke briefly, telling of the work of the Commonwealth Committee in getting shipbuilders and laboring interests together about a common table which,

My Dear Mr. Whitaker:—Many thanks for your letter of Monday endorsing the article from the Daily Telegraph. I had already read the article this morning and had called it to the attention of my staff. I am surprised to learn that it was held up so long. I cannot understand why they should have done it.

You may be interested to know that I have read your book, "Over the Border," with great interest, and I congratulate you on a vivid piece of work, and one, moreover, which is a distinct pleasure to read. The character of Old Bull and the girl will remain in my mind for a long time. It is a fine example of what can be done through the influence of a fine American woman. I have sent your book to Admiral Bayley to read, and will call the attention of my wife to it when I write.

DR. TAIT FUNERAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. —Funeral services will be held tomorrow from the undertaking parlors at Geary and Divisadero streets for Dr. F. Dudley Tait, one of the best known surgeons of the bay district.

Joseph R. Knowland presided. He was introduced by President H. C. Canwell. Knowland spoke briefly, telling of the work of the Commonwealth Committee in getting shipbuilders and laboring interests together about a common table which, he declared, marked a historic event in Oakland.

W. Dornfeld, former magician and now a soldier, furnished the entertainment together about a common table which,

SEARCH FOR BROCK WITH NO SUCCESS

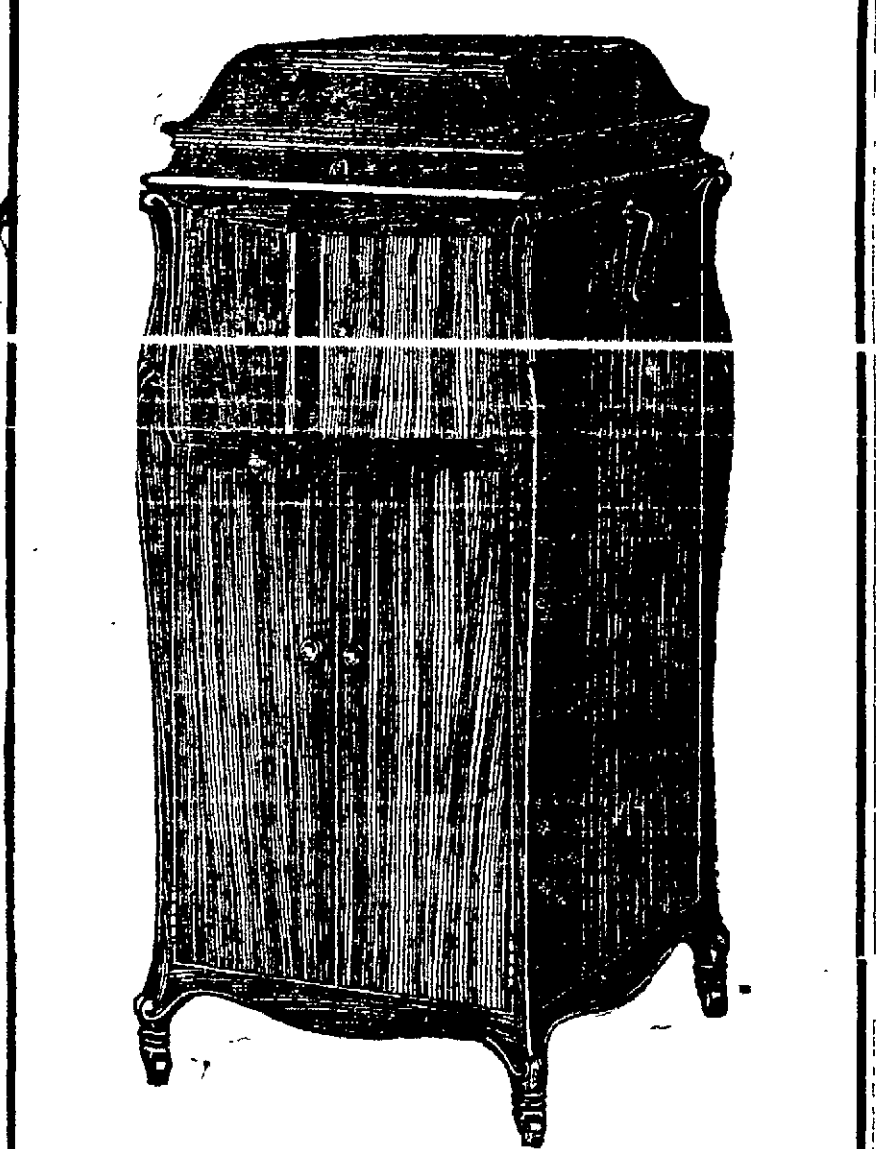

Directed by Professor M. C. Lynch, acting for President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, a delegation of fraternity members are today searching for traces of McKinley Parker Brock, missing University student aviator, who dropped from sight more than a week ago on a Key Route train. The hunt is being conducted through fraternal halls at the request of the Brock family, who are not certain that the lad is not the hidden victim of some initiation prank.

Chief of Police August Vollmer and the police of Berkeley scout the idea of Brock being the victim of kidnapers. They declare that all evidence points to indications that he was drowned. When members of the Brock family communicated with the Berkeley authorities on the fraternity house matter they were referred to the University. Professor Lynch ordered the search and every fraternity house in the city is being examined from cellar to garret.

Many false tips or young Brock's whereabouts have been received by the family, both by mail and over the telephone. All manner of volunteer investigators have also offered their services in the hunt. Before them all has hung the reward of $500 offered by the youth's family. And still the convulsion grows, both in official and personal circles, that Brock has been drowned.

Many persons have fallen from the Key Route pier, from which Brock is supposed to have tumbled, at different times. Some of them have come to the surface, after being drowned, in South San Francisco. Others at Richmond or off Martinez. The strong channel currents which sweep around the pier frequently carry bodies to extreme bay points. All are being watched for traces of the missing student.

Further light on young Brock's movement on the ill-fated Sunday night when he was last seen alive by companions en route for Berkeley on a Key Route train has been obtained. It was learned today that Brock and his friends had a fight in the Key Route waiting room on the San Francisco side while on the way home with a naval marine. The marine, according to waiting-room attaches, "cleaned up" the university boys.

KIDDIES TO MEET ORPHEUM'S PETS

This is an animal story. It is the story of a bad little monkey and a good little bear. The monkey missed up all of the scenery and made State Manager Frank Crane of the Orpheum very angry. The good little bear comes to him to be petted and Casey buys him peanuts and candy.

And Manager Harry Cornell likes both the good little bear and the bad little monkey, and thinks the children of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley ought to like them, too. So, next Saturday, after the matinee, he has invited the children to meet them on the stage after the performance.

They can see the little bear, who is a little bear baby himself, and loves to play, be petted and eat out of some one's hand. The monkey likes to shake hands with people, and he's very tame, too. The bear-eater, the only trained one in captivity, is just like a pussy cat. He also likes to be petted.

It will be a merry party after the show at the Orpheum Saturday. Immediately after the show is over the curtain will be raised and the children and their parents will be invited on the stage to meet Apple's pets. The crane will introduce them personally. He will tell what they eat, how they were trained, and all about them. There are right fuzzy dogs, four bears, all as tame as dogs, the comical monkeys, and the trained ant eater, which is the tamest of the lot. It will be a real lesson in natural history, for never before have the youngsters been given such an opportunity to get so intimate with these remarkable animals.

This week's bill at the Orpheum is one of the brightest of the season. It is headed by McIntire and Hyams, the clever couple who present "Maybloom," one of the most charming comedies of the present season. This offering incidentally, was staged by Frank Stammers, who will be remembered here, as he lived in California before he went east to become famous, wrote several of the Kolb & Dill shows and produced many of them right in Oakland.

But the Saturday animal reception is what interests the kiddies. It is after the show. Few kiddies will let their elders forget.

NEW COMEDIAN

Low White, the Hebrew comedian, imported from New York to assist Jim Post in the business of laugh-making at the Columbia theater, is proving a big favorite with the crowd. White is playing the role of the Cohen, fortune-hunter, opposite Post's Dixie in the current attraction, "Higgs in Mexico," and the pair is scoring heavily.

The new show is modeled along altogether different lines and the two comedians are being assisted by a big company, including Revere Gardner, Beagle Hill, Arthur Penner, Alice Lewis, Frank Budd and George Archer, who need no introduction to Columbia patrons. Archer made his debut here with the Dillon and King comedy many years ago and is always a big favorite.

The show continues for the week and will be followed on next Sunday by another big musical attraction. Special performances will be given on Thursday evening, amateur night, and on Friday evening, chorus girls' contest night.

'ROMANCE' DRAWS AT MACDONOUGH

"Romance" is breaking all records at the Macdonough Theater, where Crane Wilbur is producing the famous Doris Keane play with the aid of his co-stars, Miss Urban, Mr. Humphreys, Miss Melville, Mr. Lloyd and a score of others.

Aside from the beauty of the play and its rare strength as a drama, there is unquestionably a vast deal of interest on the part of playgoers in "Romance," because of the fact that Doris Keane is now in her third year of success in connection with the same play.

It will be a mystery to many that a play which could have a year of success in New York and three years of triumph in London, could miss being sent on tour to the Pacific Coast. Perhaps it must remain a mystery, because there is no explanation available, except that the owners of the play have preferred to confine their interest to the New York and London productions.

By an apparently lucky chance, Crane Wilbur secured the rights of the piece for production on the Pacific Coast, and that is the reason why theatergoers are given opportunity this week to witness the play.

It is no exaggeration to say that the play might have been made to order for Crane Wilbur and Jane Urban. The role of Tom Armstrong, a young New York rector, whose strong love for an Italian prima donna is the powerful driving motive of the play, fits Wilbur like a glove. He is the young minister to the life. Those who are most fond of seeing him in love scenes on the stage, are quite likely to have their fill of satisfaction, in watching "Romance" this week.

Keen critics agree that clever Miss Urban never did anything that approached her performance of "Miss Keane" in her career, but rarely beautiful costumes of the period of 1850, with curls and crinoline, she is dainty to look upon.

Will Lloyd is fortunate to have so powerful and effective a role as that of Cornelius Van Tyle, in which to make his debut with the Crane Wilbur players.

Delicious character parts are played by Oral Humphreys and Emilie Melville in "Romance" and twenty other artists shine in varying parts through the progress of the play.

The Crane Wilbur management announces that an extra matinee Thursday will be given to satisfy the demand for seats for the current week.

The famous Geo. M. Cohan farce comedy, "Hill the Train Holiday," with Crane Wilbur in the title role, is underlined for presentation next Sunday.

"FLARE UP SAL" IS AT THE KINEMA

Reverting to her dance hall type, fighting her way among the red blooded men of the rush days, Dorothy Dalton shows that warlike, that rap and virt, of feminine charm that has made her popular in similar parts in her latest "Flare Up Sal" at the Kinema.

Today and until Saturday, together with Mae Sennett's rather odd comedy, "Ellis Island Purpose."

Fighting like a tigress and as tender as a kitten, Dorothy is an enigma to those rough men of the West. Not understanding her they adore her, obeying her every whim and finally aiding her in her final protecting of the outlaw and road agent against their one passionate desire.

Next week the Kinema will present Herman Whitaker's well known novel, "The Player," a book that is read wherever English is spoken, and because of its popularity it is being made into a play that contrasts true American steadfastness and stick-to-itiveness, with the easy going, loose moral methods of the players of Mexico.

BISHOP PLAY, GEM

"The House Next Door" continues to be the choice for playgoers at the Bishop. Not only is it one of the most charming plays, technically, that any playwright has ever turned out, but the Bishop company, headed by J. Anthony Smythe, Betty Brice and "Billy" Rainer, are offering it in a manner that is a masterpiece by itself. A perfect play, perfect acting, and perfect production are the features that combine to make the offering a veritable level of dramatic work. Throughout it is a finished, artistic piece of drama, and every part is perfect.

Smythe was never better than in the part of the old-time British nobleman, with all his prejudices and old-time ideas that are finally swept away before the new world spirit of achievement. Rainer has wonderful part for his unique talents. Betty Brice never had a more charming part than that of the sedate

George V. Hobart has given his best work to the screen. It is "Madame Jealousy," which will be seen for the first time at the new T. & D. theater today with Pauline Frederick, the great emotional star, in the title role. Hobart has written some great plays, among them "Everywife" and "Experience." In "Madame Jealousy," however, he has given the silent drama its masterpiece.

And there are other prominent reasons why Oaklanders will flock to the T. & D. theater this week. They are contained in the showing of the third episode of the awe-inspiring Italian picture, "The Defense of Venice," new operatic selections by the famous Remi duo, and a picture of more unusual interest and a rollicking brew comedy.

The program as a whole is one of the most attractive ever offered in Oakland and strictly in keeping with the T. & D. theater's policy of giving Oakland better than the best.

"Madame Jealousy" is more than an amusing photoplay with an interesting story and beautiful scenes—it will make you think! It is the big, vital photodrama of the day. A historical theme, "Madame Jealousy" has for its characters Sorrow, Treachery, Pride, Charm, Mischievous play and almost every known motive in life. Pauline Frederick is Jealousy sowing the seeds of discontent, suspicion and rumor. It is the most unusual role of her career. She is the super-vampire taken from life, but in the end her efforts to disrupt the happiness of others goes for naught and she sinks into the sand of life at the dramatic conclusion of this remarkable play, she declares: "I go out of their lives, but others shall call me back."

George V. Hobart wrote nothing stronger for the stage or screen than this masterpiece. It will give us the sheer dramatic interest. By a great author, it shows as well one of the stars of the screen superbly cast in a clean photodrama with a message to every man and woman.

"The Defense of Venice" eclipses in thrills and realism all other episodes of the wonderful Italian pictures which have shown in graphic chapters Italy's heroic fight against the invading armies of the Hun and the Christians. In the present episode to be shown at the new T. & D. theater today, the Italians are seen throwing up defenses around the historic city which was threatened by invasion. The pictures were taken just at the moment when it appeared the invaders would cross the Piave and destroy the art treasures of centuries that have been stored in Venice. Allen Lane, the organizer, will render appropriate music during the showing of the Italian pictures, his selections being taken from "Sunny Italy."

BROADWAY BILL

A double bill which includes two very unusual offerings will be presented Thursday and Friday at the Broadway Theater.

"The Lust of the Ages" with Lillian Walker, the screen favorite, in the leading role, has been pronounced by critics to mark a new era in the silent drama.

"The Lust of the Ages" is built along the lines of a tremendous, spectacular production with nevertheless a story that is gripping and intense to the extreme. The play depicts the unholy alliance of wealth that results in the destruction of all that is good in life. It is a story of policy to release only extraordinary attractions, the Orphen Pictures Corporation have spared neither time nor expense in the staging of the production. Every element that tends toward a successful cinema attraction enters into this production. Pleading with heart interest and pathos and a strong trend of humor characteristically portrayed in the acting of Miss Walker, wonderful scenic effects with the employment of thousands of sheep, tremendous sets, together with a love theme that would delight the hearts of young and old, all tend to make "The Lust of the Ages," a most unusual photo drama.

Robert Warwick and Gail Kane, and a brilliant supporting company, appear in "My Friend and Enemy," a notable production.

SHOW 'BIRTH' FILM

Never before in the history of showdom has a more beautiful picture been shown than "Birth," the screen version of the great event in every young mother's life which is being offered for the benefit of the women in the east bay district each afternoon at the Hippodrome playhouse. The picture is being screened at the matinees only and none but women are admitted.

The function of "Birth" is to teach young mothers the proper method of caring for their children and for themselves. The reels were taken in a New York maternity hospital under the supervision of the Eugenic Film Co. and there is nothing obscene in the picture. The picture is merely a series of scenes and not a story, and was photographed not for entertainment, but education.

This scene that is attracting the most attention in the one wherein a child is seen coming into the world and the work of the doctors attempting to put life into the little body is shown in detail. This scene comes at the end of the picture, about an hour. Other scenes show children in various stages of adolescence and the proper method of caring for them.

"Birth" is being shown at the matinee performances only. In the evening the Hippodrome players are appearing in

Heading today's program at the Franklin theater, Natalia Lesienko will appear in another Russian art picture titled "The Cloven Tongue." In "The Cloven Tongue" had nothing else to offer and it has plenty, it would be of interest to everyone as a picture of country life in the "land of snows."

There is something about this feature that impresses the observer with a sense of sincerity. One feels that he is seeing the every day life of that great country, that the people of the film are real persons, not the people of a writer's imagination. For this convincing sincerity, all credit must be given to the skillful work of some of the best actors of the Moscow art theater. Prominent among them is Natalia Lesienko, the premier of roles known in this country as "vamping parts."

"The Cloven Tongue" gives a remarkably faithful and interesting presentation of Russian country life. Natalia Lesienko plays the part of a clever and designing Circassian woman of low birth who stoops at nothing to gain her ends. Her acting is simply wonderful. This picture will give everyone a clear conception of Russian life such as could not be obtained by reading a dozen books of travel.

On the same bill with "The Cloven Tongue," Ruth Clifford and Monroe Salisbury will be seen in "Hands Down," a thrilling drama of the high Sierra.

"Hands Down" is a big unusual feature full of excitement and adventure with the beautiful scenery of the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains for a background. It tells the story of an Italian woman who has marked down as "no good," but who proved herself to be one of the best citizens of the town when the girl that his only friend loved was in danger. He fearlessly got into the fight saying: "I have got you both beaten and the girl stays with me."

It is a gripping story that will interest all and will afford an hour's entertainment that you will enjoy to the utmost.

The Franklin theater orchestra, under the direction of Anton F. Stochelle, has prepared a special score of music to accompany both "The Cloven Tongue" and "Hands Down," and will be heard at all evening performances during the run of this most excellent program.

PANTAGES GIVES NEW LAUGH SHOW

The most laughable twenty minutes in Oakland is offered at Pantages this week in the screamingly funny act "Johnny's New Car," which is headlining the bill.

Imagine yourself with a dented bank roll, a hungry girl and an automobile that broke down in front of an expensive restaurant.

That is the initial situation and one that Harry Landau, a remarkably clever comedian, handles in a bright and snappy way. Finally when he succeeds in getting the best of this situation his automobile begins to balk. The automobile itself holds all records for inanimate laughing. It is as full of tricks as a monkey. Even the headlight and the fenders are made to produce laughs. And back of it all is a human element that will make the memory of the sketch linger and linger.

From the genuine mode of locomotion to the primitive horse is a long step, but one that is taken in the Pantages bill. The other headline act on the program is that presented by Miss Ross Rosalind, billed as the "Equestrienne Venus." And Miss Rosalind lives up to the billing. She also performs more tricks on the back of moving horses than most people perform on the ground. One of her stunts is to turn a "flip flop" from the back of one horse to the back of another.

Dixie Harris and four well-dressed young fellows offer a pleasing assortment of songs, while George and Tony Florence open the show with a novel acrobatic turn. The Cortez Trio presents a program of musical selections, while Harrison and Bearls have a stunt and talking act that is away out of the ordinary. A funny L. K. comedy picture provides the motion picture part of the entertainment.

company both "The Cloven Tongue" and "Hands Down," and will be heard at all evening performances during the run of this most excellent program.

Actress Gives Recipe For Gray Hair

A Well Known Actress Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Jolene Williams, the well-known American actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial Theater in St. Louis, Mo., made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray, streaked or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/2 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or any druggist can put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—Advertisement.

Report Many Cases of Rheumatism Now

Says we must keep feet dry; avoid exposure and eat less meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all, take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of ridding the blood of this impurity. When the skin is cold, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. It will have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. It has been in use for much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

Some Food for Thought.

People everywhere are beginning to realize that it pays to buy medicines that have an established reputation as they are most trustworthy and most dependable. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of them. It has been in use for almost half a century. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. MEET TO OUTLINE STEPHENS' PLANS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—A score or more of local Progressive-Republicans met yesterday afternoon at the invitation of Holla V. Watt, personal friend of Governor William D. Stephens, at Watts' office to discuss preliminary plans for the furtherance of the governor's plans to succeed himself.

Percy V. Long, former city attorney, presided at the conference, which lasted more than an hour. At the close of the meeting Long said it was merely a "get-together" meeting of a few friends of the governor.

Among those who attended were Moses A. Gunst, wealthy cigar manufacturer; Mortimer Fleishacker, the banker; James J. Ryan, assemblyman from the Twenty-third district; Jesse Steinhart and others.

"It was the sense of the meeting that Governor Stephens has given the State a creditable administration, and that he is entitled to succeed himself," said Long. "He is safe and sane, and we believe that in his hands the State would be protected from the Socialist or Bolsheviki tariff of the times. That tendency in going to be a serious matter in California in the future."

It is understood the meeting yesterday will result later on in the organization of a Stephens' committee or club.

To give the gathering a full official sanction, Martin C. Madsen, the private secretary of Governor Stephens, who has made him more enemies than any other official, attended and gave and accepted advice. Madsen will undoubtedly be the manager of the campaign for Stephens, or at least the Colonel House of the struggle.

PRICE OF BEEF TO GO UP FIVE CENTS

Oakland will face a 5-cent retail price per pound in all grades of beef, mutton and lamb before the month of March is over, and will probably see 2 or 3-cent rises within the coming week.

This was declared by Oakland butchers this morning, following another rise in the wholesale price of all dressed meats. In the past month the rises in the wholesale prices of various meat goods have totaled from 1/2 to 3 cents per pound. Wholesale prices of beef have risen 1 1/2 to 2 cents, according to quality. Second quality beef runs from 15 1/2 to 16 cents, as against the old price of 15 and 15 1/2 cents.

Lambs have gone up 1 cent per pound over yesterday, sheep from 1 to 2 cents, according to quality of goods and pork 1 cent. There have been several rises in the past month besides that of today.

Beef has risen 1/2 to 2 cents in the past month," declared J. H. Lester, one of Oakland's largest retailers, "and sheep and lamb have seen the same condition. We expect more rises, of from 1 to 1 1/2 cents, before March is over, according to the warning wholesalers have given us. The result will be a retail rise that will cover these wholesale increases."

Butchers expect that the retail prices will be higher this year than they have been for a long time. The extra heavy demand for war supplies, the enormous cost of feed and the shipping difficulties, combined with big losses in cattle in hill regions through drought, are declared to be the combining factors that have forced prices skyward.

NIGHT CARNIVAL PLANNED ON LAKE

The Recreation Department of the public schools is making arrangements for an illuminated Water Sport Carnival to be held on Lake Merritt March 29 from 5 o'clock in the evening until 10 o'clock at night. The affair will be in honor of the delegates who will be in the city in attendance on some one of the conventions to be held here the last week in March. Among these conventions will be that of the State Federation of Mothers' Clubs, Federation of School Women's Clubs, and the Bay Section of the California Teachers' Association in connection with the Alameda County Teachers' Institute.

The Recreation Department has decided that Saturday, May 4, will be the date for holding the May Day festivities. The place has not been selected as yet.

JURY WON OVER BY GYPSY MAGIC

Anybody, especially a gypsy woman, who can extract long way hairs from the unbroken pelt of an egg, blow knots out of a string, tear up $50 bills and then make them whole again, is entitled to get money out of them, or anybody else, says the jury in Judge Waste's department that heard the evidence in the trial of Mrs. Mary Adams, Broadway gypsy fortune teller, accused Mrs. Camoto Francesca of stealing $200 from her.

There was so much mysticism in the story that the jury became mystified itself and concluded that nobody really knew whether the $200 was intended to go to the spirits or only just for a bluff. Mrs. Francesca talked such a rapid mixture of Italian and English, and had so much fun out of the telling of the story that every one felt that the gypsy had provided entertainment sufficient to offset the charge. Even the gypsy woman had frequently to be admonished by her attorney, Lin S. Church, from laughing. The women on the jury never had so much fun, and they say that when you make a jury laugh they will do anything.

Mrs. Francesca went to Mrs. Adams to be healed. Mrs. Adams told her to bring money with which to tempt the evil spirits that were tormenting her, as well as to secure the services of the good spirits. Mrs. Francesca took $200 in gold, which the fortune teller made her go and change for currency. Soaking the bills in a glass of "smelly" liquid, the gypsy tore them into bits. "It made me sick," Mrs. Francesca testified. Mrs. Adams told her that the spirits could put them all together again, and to prove that the spirits were clever, she extracted the long gray hair from the egg and blew out the knots from a string, the two ends of which Mrs. Francesca herself held securely.

After it was all over the gypsy told Mrs. Francesca to go home and rub her head with an orange, which she swore she did faithfully. The money was returned to the police and Mrs. Adams was allowed to go back to her spirits.

CLASS REUNIONS

BERKELEY, Feb. 27.—At a meeting of the class booster committees held recently at the University of California, it was decided to hold class reunions in March, at the time of the semi-centennial, which is to be observed from March 18 to March 23, rather than in May, as is customary.

Sixty persons were present at the meeting, representing classes which date as far back as 1861. Committees have been well organized and plans are now well under way for the successful observance of the university's 50th birthday.

FITCH HEADS LAND SHOW'S EXHIBITS

George W. Fitch, former president of the Oakland Ad Club, and for the past year and a half manager of the promotion department of The Oakland TRIBUNE, has been appointed director of exhibits for the Pacific Coast Land and Industrial Exposition to be held on the grounds surrounding the civic auditorium from August 15 to October 15.

Fitch's appointment was confirmed by General Manager George B. Keefe and the exhibition directors at a regular meeting of the board held in the executive offices Monday. The appointment adds to the managerial staff at this time a man well versed and experienced in the activities and requirements of the exhibit department.

The new appointee, besides being an experienced newspaper advertising man, has been actively connected in the theatrical and amusement promotion business for a number of years. Fitch has to his credit the successful direction of several noteworthy Auditorium attractions, including the first amateur athletic tournament, the "T. T. 'Oakland First' industrial exposition in 1916, the second annual Ad-Masque, Ashmead Temple patriotic revue and ball and as director of merchants' displays in the third annual Ad-Masque. During his theatrical career Fitch has been business manager at various times for the following well known players: Bessie Stuart Bacon, Franklyn Underwood and Frances Stonson, Nancy O'Neill, Frank Bacon and Dillon & King. He will assume his new duties March 1.

More than 500,000 square feet of ground space surrounding the Oakland Civic Auditorium will be utilized in the forthcoming exposition, 100,000 of which will be devoted to the following exhibit displays all housed under separate tents, states and countries, manufacturers, automobiles, trucks and tractors. According to present plans the various exhibit features now being arranged for by the management are destined to be recognized as the finest ever displayed in the state and second only in point of size and variety to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition of 1915.

ATTACK SAILORS

LONDON, Feb. 27.—A group of American sailors in County Cork, Ireland, were attacked and stoned by Sinn Feiners, according to a despatch printed in the Chronicle today. There were at least fifteen sailors in the group when the attack was made. No attack was paid to the jeers with which the Sinn Feiners greeted the sailors, but when stones began to fly the Yankee tars charged their assailants.

Advices from Dublin and other Irish cities indicate that the Sinn Feiners are getting bolder, and that the cases of lawlessness are increasing.

MERRITT TO CONTROL ALL FISH PRICES?

Administration hopes to bring about a solution of the fish problem by its control of fishermen and wholesalers was made at a conference of the committee on the fish situation held in the office of Commissioner W. H. Edwards yesterday. The conference represented Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond.

The information was contained in a letter from Federal Food Administrator Ralph S. Meyer Merritt, in which he stated that his office is putting into operation the food administration food plan in its relation to the fish situation Friday. This was taken by the conference to mean that the regulation of fish prices, which has been in the hands of State Market Director Harris Weinstock, will be taken over by Food Administrator Merritt.

Weinstock had no power to fix prices or margin of profit on fish caught outside of state waters, and as 80 per cent or more of the fish sold in the local market is steamer fish, and so caught outside of Weinstock's jurisdiction, the wholesale fish people remained in control, it is declared by Commissioner Edwards. In his letter to Commissioner Edwards, Merritt intimates that he considers he will have the power to control fish prices to a large extent.

This power will be exercised in two

LYON'S SLAYER SAYS SHE'LL NOT END OWN LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—A guarantee that Marie Pinzon Edwards will not attempt suicide if she is allowed her freedom on bail pending her second trial on a charge of slaying State Senator Henry H. Lyon, was telegraphed to District Attorney Thomas L. Woolwine in San Francisco today. The telegram was a reply to District Attorney Woolwine's statement that he would order Miss Edwards released on bail if it were possible to safeguard her against any attempt to commit suicide.

All salt water fishermen and all wholesale dealers in fish are placed under federal control, as being forced to take out a license beginning next Friday. These licenses are revocable and so give Merritt the power to regulate the affairs of the fishermen and wholesalers. The second power is that of regulation of profits. In regard to this Merritt wrote:

"The federal food control bill gives power to set a reasonable margin of profits which may be charged by wholesale distributors, and the bill provides severe penalties for the limitation of production or waste of foodstuffs."

Those present at the conference were Commissioner Edwards, W. N. Jenkins and Mrs. L. A. Stone of the Oakland board of market directors; Mayor Greene Majors of Alameda; City Attorney Frank D. Stringham of Berkeley; President J. C. Downey of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange; Managing Director Joseph Caine of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. James Hamilton of the increased food production committee of the Council of Defense; Mrs. T. C. Cleveland of Berkeley; and George Lohr, J. B. Ogburn and R. W. E. Ames, representing Richmond.

Relatives Await Names of Survivor Victims of Huns

Definite word of the fate of three of these persons is awaited anxiously in Berkeley and Alameda. The little girl on the right is Juanita Cameron, who was with her mother and father on the lost Beluga. The other child is the sister Edris, now in Berkeley. The woman is Mrs. Cameron and the man Captain R. D. Trudgett of Alameda.

No Further Word from Rescued Mariners Who Are Freed When Raider Is Wrecked

Oversea cables are silent today regarding the fate of the survivors of 12 Pacific coast craft, who fell victims of the German sea raider Wolf, and who were reported in yesterday's despatches to have landed in Denmark when the Igout Mendi, a captured Spanish vessel on the Pacific for eight months, was ashore on the Skaw with prisoners from the sunk craft aboard.

Nine women and two children are said to be among those landed in Denmark and now safely ashore in a neutral country. Oakland relatives of at least three of the commanders of vessels captured by the raider and held prisoners on the Pacific for eight months, are awaiting anxiously further information of the fate of the rescued mariners.

One of the rescued children is believed to be Juanita Cameron, 6-year-old daughter of Captain and Mrs. John Stanley Cameron. All three left in the whaling bark Beluga, one of those sunk by the Wolf, last May. Within the space of a few months, the youngster is thought to have witnessed the capture and burning of her father's steamer at sea, to have been held prisoner aboard a steamer, and to have been in a shipwreck which finally landed her safely within a neutral zone.

A second daughter of the Camerons, Edris, 4 years old, was left in care of Mrs. H. R. Balch, 140 Henry street, Berkeley, of which city Cameron was also a native. Mrs. Balch, after waiting for many months, and not hearing from Captain Cameron, decided that he and his craft had been lost. She was on the point of asking for adoption papers, when the news of the landing of the Beluga survivors on the Skaw reached her.

ARE ANXIOUS. Families of Captain Antonio Olson of the schooner Endeavor and Captain R. D. Trudgett of the Winslow are also among the anxious ones. At the Olson home, 1350 Ocean avenue, Mrs. Theresa Olson, wife of the captain, is almost prostrated at the news of the arrival of the Endeavor's commander and crew after she and her son and daughter had given up all hope of seeing Olson after months of suspense.

At the Trudgett home, 1201 Willow street, Alameda, where the wife and two sons are awaiting further word of Captain Trudgett's safe return and rescue, Mrs. Trudgett declared that she had not seen her husband since last July when he sailed for Sydney. She is not greatly heartened by the despatch from Copenhagen telling of the landing of the survivors, expressing her belief

FAITH IS STRONG HE IS BANKRUPT OUSTED BY ARMY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Declaring that Russian sympathies are pro-American despite the internal turmoil, and that great markets are open to American products in the Slav country, Mitchell Berg, secretary of the Russian People's Economic Mission to the United States, who is at the St. Francis hotel, today urged business men to avail themselves of ready markets in what he brands as the remarkable market-place of Europe.

The bankruptcy petition of James Willson, Oakland contractor, was filed in the Federal District Court yesterday, listing liabilities of $146,907; no assets. The principal creditors are the Redding National Bank of Redding, $47,000; the Aetna Insurance Company, $41,889, surety on Willson's bonds for the construction of a canal in Redding, Shasta county.

ATEK, Mass., Feb. 28.—Ninety-eight Germans and Austrians have been discharged from the national army at Camp Devens as the result of orders from the war department to eliminate all enemy aliens from camps throughout the country. Some of the men had risen to the non-commissioned ranks and several had taken out their first citizenship papers.

The Marvelous Duo Art

The DUO ART is the very latest style of Player Piano, a product of the Aeolian Company, makers of the famous and original Pianola. It can be played manually as a regular Piano, as a Player Piano using any make of 88-note roll, and as a Reproducing Instrument. It stands out above all others, superior in every particular—

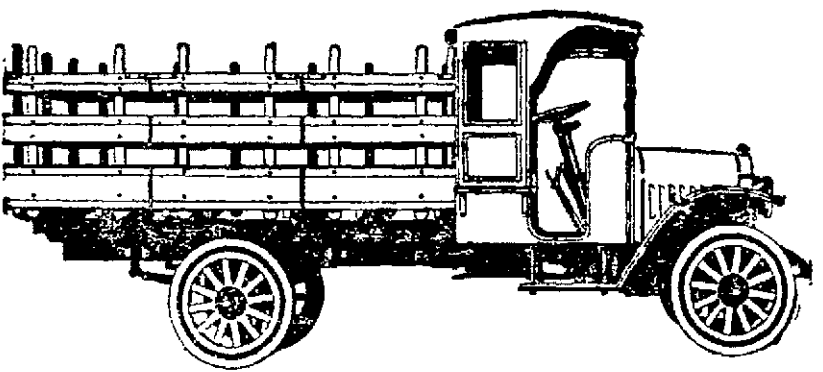

- 1—Tone Graduation—having twice the number of Tone Graduations of any other player instrument, producing perfect "tone color" impossible in any other Player.
- 2—"Time" Control—which not only regulates the time but instructs and guides the one playing, assuring the correct interpretation of the selection.
- 3—Accenting the Solo—bringing out perfectly the solo (or melody), but at the same time controlling the accompaniment so that it properly supports the Solo.
- 4—No Pedaling—the air chamber is constantly supplied without foot pedaling, permitting the one playing to devote his entire attention to interpretation, thus making the instrument a pleasure instead of a labor.
- 5—Simplicity of Construction—no complicated or troublesome mechanisms, as in other Players.
- 6—Reproducing the Actual Playing of the Great Pianists—with the wonderful Duo Art Rolls, as perfectly as the Victrola reproduces the voice of Caruso and other great artists.

Neither space nor words enable us to explain here how marvelous is this new instrument. There are so many interesting points about it — it is so far in advance of all other players — we urge you to come in and let us play it for you, let us show its exclusive and wonderful features.
